

IMAGE CAPTURE AND IDENTIFICATION SYSTEM AND PROCESS

Abstract

An identification method and process for objects from digitally captured images thereof that uses image characteristics to identify an object from a plurality of objects in a database.
The image is broken down into parameters such as a Shape
Comparison, Grayscale Comparison, Wavelet Comparison, and Color Cube Comparison with object data in one or more databases to identify the actual object of a digital image.

20250424 1050T "2462560"